Felizardo,

I'm glad you start talking business... I want closed this chapter with you in the better manner too...

Yes I want you to put all chips on the table, i.e. I want you to provide me calculations, separatly:

- Have many tiles was actually installed at the both roofs plus % for broken tile?
- How many broken tiles were de-facto dumped?
- How many tile you actually took from me in said 4 boxes?

P.S. Since you (not me) waist many monthes not installing tile, 4 boxes of tiles are yours, because you (not me) lost oportunity to return them to suppliyer...

FV

Mr. Fatekh

what that means?

do you want balances of the receipts of extra materials that I buy, because you just count the tile not the cement, felt, cap shet, nails, wood, flashings, ect..

tell me what is the problem to pay me

if you want the tile, I give it to you.

I want closed this chapter with you in the better manner.

thanks.

Felizardo

Felizardo,

As you've stated recently our contract has nature "Labor and Materials", http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Labor_and_materials and I agree with you. That's why, I am concerning about "Materials", which balance is Balance = Materials actually installed at the roof (may be calculated very precisely) + materials broken and dumped as per receipt sent to me by you

+ 4 boxes of tile, which you took from my site

Would you please provide me all calculation necessary to determine Materials Balance mentioned above?

Regards

Fatekh Vergasov
